

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
May 20, 2014

Contact: Chris Glazier
(678) 686-7841
chris@cookerly.com

Propeller Participates in Airport P3 Congressional Roundtable

WHAT: Andrew G. Morgan, Chief Operating Officer of Propeller Airports spoke at a U.S. Congressional roundtable discussion in Washington, DC, on May 20, 2014. The Transportation and Infrastructure Committee's Panel on Public-Private Partnerships (P3), chaired by Rep. John J. Duncan (R-TN), has been examining the role that P3s play in airport development. Mr. Morgan discussed Propellers view of the P3 strategy and shared examples of successful airport P3s, including observations from Propeller's experience. The event can be viewed via video stream.

WHERE: U.S. House of Representatives
Rayburn House Office Building
Video:
<https://transportation.house.gov/calendar/eventsingle.aspx?EventID=379986>

ABOUT PROPELLER AIRPORTS:

Propeller Airports leverages highly experienced aerospace and transportation entrepreneurs with the financial expertise and demonstrated record of making strategic investments and developing top caliber projects. Propeller is focused on developing airports from a private operator perspective in the United States, a business that is commonplace outside of America. Propeller is currently developing Silver Comet Field in Metro Atlanta that will provide residents with a second airport choice. Propeller Airports is a subsidiary of Propeller Investments. Propeller is based in New York and has offices in Atlanta and Dublin, Ireland.